

My name is Susie Scott and I am fifty-two years old. I come from a large, close-knit family. Although I have no children of my own, I have twelve nieces & nephews and four great-nephews, and have always been involved in their lives. My family is very important to me, and I feel blessed to be able to spend time with them on a regular basis.

After thirty years with AT&T, I retired in September of 2005. Less than a year later I decided that I needed part time employment. Other than babysitting I had no experience in the childcare field, but I'd always enjoyed children, so I thought I'd give it a try. It turns out that this is a good fit for me. I really enjoy establishing relationships with the kids.

I have an absolute faith in God, and welcome the opportunity to share that faith with the young ones in my care. I am totally passionate about my belief that everyone deserves to feel loved and special, and I am able to share that with children every single day.

I care about all the kids that I come in contact with, and want to do the best that I can for them. In light of this, I worked a little more than a year earning my CDA (Child Development Certification). I feel that this has helped me grow and develop into a more responsive, empathetic, and compassionate childcare worker.

This fall I will be working Tuesdays and Thursdays with Ms Angela & Ms Carlene in Rooms 7 & 8. Although I have spent some time with 3 & 4 year olds, the classroom experience with this age group is something I'm looking forward to.

I will still be helping out in the afternoon, but instead of working with Pre-K, I am with the 3 & 4 year-old group. I find that while working with the younger children is different in many ways, the love, laughter and overall adventure are quite the same!
